POPULAR YOUNG PAIR ELOPE IN NIGHT-TIME

JOHN OWSLEY REID AND MISS
FRANCES COOPER MARRIED
IN LEXINGTON

With every arrangement tinged with the glamour of romance, John Owsley Reid and Miss Frances Cooper eloped to Lexington Friday night and were married in the parlors of the Phoenix Hotel at one o'clock Saturday morning. Justice Ben D. Bell, one of the best known "marrying squires" in Kentucky tied the knot which made these two popular young hearts one, and soon afterwards they left on an extended wedding tour of the east. Their only attendants at the wedding were Miss Mary D. Kennedy, and Tom Phillips of this city, who went with them and returned home Saturday morning after the happy pair had left on their bridal journey.

The elopers kept their secret well and had every detail arranged before leaving. A few intimate friends learned of their plans but did not betray them, although, their parents learned of the elopement soon after they had started, but made no effort to intercept them.

Mr. Reid first telephoned to Danville for an automobile to be in readiness to meet his party when it arrived there. Mr. Reid Miss Cooper, Miss Kennedy and Mr. Phillips drove from here to Danville in a carriage where they took the machine and whirled away in the darkness toward Lexington. It was late in the night when they arrived but it did not require long for the issue of a license and securing Squire Bell, the knot was speedily tied.

News of the wedding was received here with great surprise. Mr. Reid was one of the ushers at Dr. Pennington and Miss Adams of Hustonville on Thursday, and Miss Cooper was present. It is believed that during the happy scenes then, the pair of sweethearts decided that they, too, would seek the road of matrimonial bliss.

Both of the young people are very well known and very popular. The bride is the third daughter of County Clerk and Mrs. George B. Cooper, and has reigned as one of the belles of Lincoln and this part of the State for several years. She is of very attractive face and form and everyone will extend congratulations to the lucky young man who has won her. Mr. Reid is the only son and child of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Reid and is one of the best known young men of this community. He attended Central University for several years where he was the leader in social circles, and has since returning home engaged in farming with his father on their handsome place on the Danville pike.

LITTLE LAD FROM CRAB ORCHARD

A PATHETIC CASE WHEN HE WENT TO ORPHANS' HOME
AT LOUISVILLE.

(Courier-Journal.)

"Are you Jimmie Gilkerson?" said Patrolman Tom O'Brien, the big good natured guardian of the law at the Tenth street station to a 6-year-old and Nashville train shortly after 9 o'clock last night and seemed bewildered by the maze of tracks and the shouts of cabbies and the hurry, hurry of the crowd.

"Yes, sir, Mr. Policeman I'm Jimmie Gilkerson and I am so glad you came for me 'cause I don't know which way to go. They said when I left Crab Orchard I was going to the Orphans' Home, where I would find a whole lot of nice little boys to play ball with. Where is this home?"

"Well, you just come along with me sonny and I'll fix you up," replied the bluecoat. Soon the little fellow was taking his first automobile ride on the way to the office of Maj. Patrick Ridge, Night Chief of Police, where the arrangements were to be made for his transfer to the matron of Louisville Baptist Orphans' Home, 1230 South First Street. In the machine with Patrolman O'Brien and his youthful charge were Patrolmen Otte and Joyce, and very shortly the lad was telling them all about the ride from Crab Orchard to Louisville, his first experience on a railroad train.

The coming of Jimmie Gilkerson was announced to Maj. Ridge early last night in a telegram from Crab Orchard, so he had Patrolman O'Brien to be on the lookout for him. When the little fellow stepped from the train he was dressed in a brown Russian suit, with a little tan cap and brown sandals. He carried a satchel a box and a little bundle. In these were his clothes. He also had a heavy beaver coat lined with red satin, but the weather was not cold enough for its use.

When the boy was brought into the Night Chief's office Jimmie drew up close to Maj. Ridge and said: "They told me not to pay any attention to anybody but a man with brass buttons on. You got more than any of these others, so I am going to stay by you."

Nor could Charles R. Martin secretary of the school board, who happened to be in the office at the time, induce him to go out and buy some bananas until Maj. Ridge said that, would be all right for him to go. When Mr. Martin had purchased the bananas, the child reached into his pocket and drew out a quarter which he offered in payment for the fruit. But this was refused and he was told that he must save his money until he got out to the home.

Tucked securely on the inside of Jimmie's pocket was a wallet containing several papers that told his little story. James Nelson Lesley was born at Crab Orchard six years ago but his parents died shortly after his birth. There was no one to take charge of the little orphan but his mother's uncle, J. B. Gilkerson, who was then 65 years of age. But the aged man adopted the lad and reared him as his own. Age caused the old man to relinquish his charge and the Baptist church secured his admission to the Louisville Baptist Orphanage and, armed with a physician's certificate of his good health, he gamely set out for Louisville.

The most pathetic feature of the whole case was a letter from his adopted father to Miss Mary E. Abercrombie, superintendent of the house. It read:

"My dear Madam—Now that my darling Jimmie is to enter your home I feel near to you, also. You are to have the raising of him, because I am no longer able to give him all that I should. He is a homeless child and soon I am to pass away and leave him friendless. But I know that he is to be well taken care of and I am happy. You will find that he is a peculiar child, very affectionate and overly anxious to please those about him. For the first few days keep him close to you and 'mother' him so that he will forget his new surroundings and get use to his new home. Hoping that God will bless you and that my Jimmie will grow up to be a good and brave man, I am,

"Yours truly, J. B. Gilkerson.
"P. S.—In case Jimmie gets sick let me know."

David Bennett Hill, former governor of New York, and prominent in national democratic politics, died last week and was buried to day.

LOCAL BOYS WIN GRUELLING GAME

SOMERSET FOOTBALL TEAM
AGAIN DEFEATED, THIS
TIME BY 5 TO 0

After fighting desperately for three quarters and just holding their own against the sturdy football warriors of Pulaski, by a brilliant forward pass from Waters to Singleton and sizzling run by the speedy end for 65 yards to a touchdown, the Stanford high school team Saturday defeated the Somerset eleven 5 to 0 on the grounds here.

The game was anybody's from the start until it was over, for the visitors had improved greatly over the form shown at Somerset a couple of weeks ago, when Stanford defeated them 23 to 6. They used the forward pass with good effect but could do little against the sturdy Stanford line. Splendid tackles by Penny, Singleton, T. Coleman, McCarty and the powerful rushes of H. Coleman, Embry and Penny, the back field were features of the game. The Somerset boys played a good game, and their weight had the ball in the Stanford territory much of the time, but the speed and gameness of the Lincoln lads daunted the visitors whenever they began to look dangerous. This was the third straight defeat administered to Somerset by the local eleven.

The team from the school for the Deaf from Danville comes here next Saturday, when the game promises to be more bitterly fought than that of last week.

Good Tobacco Prices

REALIZED AT FIRST SALES AT DANVILLE WAREHOUSES.

The first sales of the 1910 crop of tobacco at the Danville warehouses Saturday afternoon, the average price received was 14 cents per pound and the American Tobacco Company was the leading buyer, although numerous independent buyers were in the market the bidding was spirited. The highest price received was 18 cents a pound and the lowest was 8 cents. All of the tobacco that was offered was of a much inferior grade to the average crops grown last year.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and which the best new years was supposed to be curable. Now a good many years doctors pronounced it a fatal disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Hall & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional Catarrh Cure. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer money for cures and testimonials. Address: F. J. CLEMENT & SONS, Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, etc.
